

The Edge of the Cedars State Park Museum will host a lecture presented by Paul Magnanti:

A Walk Across Southern Utah

on June 23rd (Saturday) at 2:00 PM
at Edge of the Cedars State Park Museum, Blanding, Utah

-free and open to the public-

Paul Magnanti's presentation will feature the hiker's "Walk Across Southern Utah," an excursion to took Paul across the beautiful, varied, and rugged landscapes of our state in the autumn of 2017. Still fresh on his mind, Magnanti will review his 33-day, 650-mile trek, taking us along that route through picture and story. Come join us for the afternoon to enjoy desert, mountain, river, mesa, and canyon from within the cool of your Utah State Park Museum at the Edge of the Cedars.

Paul Magnanti is an avid hiker and intrepid explorer of trails. He hails from Boulder, Colorado, but his ventures have taken him across many broad swaths of North America. Magnanti's legs have carried him along the Appalachian Trail, the Pacific Crest Trail, and the Colorado Trail, among others.

To learn more about Magnanti's excursions, visit <https://pmags.com/>.

This presentation is a part of the 2018 Four Corners Lecture Series.

Paul Magnanti in Canyon de Chelly
(Photo by Josh Zapin).